Geography Bee

The Grand Coulee Dam Middle School Geography Bee was held Thursday, 1-14-09, in the middle school library. With Nancy Carlson as moderator, the contestants included Eight grade students Brandin Smith, Jolene Catoto, Rachel Carter, and Dakota Kentner. The seventh grade was represented by Tyler Cross, Tristian Goss, and Alex Garcia. A large group of parents and peers attended to cheer the contestants.

Contestants were put through seven rounds of preliminary questions before taking a break. The final round's format was double-elimination. In the championship round, Dakota Kentner and Rachel Carter were battling it out and Dakota Kentner prevailed. Dakota will now be tested by the National Geographic Society, and if he qualifies, he will be invited to the state competition this spring.

Drama in action

1st semester Drama students performed their self written plays for students and staff. This class has been a very positive addition to our 7th & 8th grade elective schedule!
